

What does this sentence mean?

“A penny for your thoughts Amir - you’ve been so quiet lately,” asked Mum.

- a) Mum will give Amir a penny in return for his thoughts.
- b) Mum was asking Amir what he was thinking about.
- c) Amir will give Mum a penny when he tells her his thoughts.

twinkl.com

What does this sentence mean?

This new television cost a pretty penny!

- a) The new television cost 1p.
- b) The new television cost a shiny new 1p.
- c) The new television cost a lot of money.

What does this sentence mean?

Aunty Magda has a heart of gold.

- a) Aunty Magda has a heart that is made of gold.
- b) Aunty Magda has a golden heart necklace.
- c) Aunty Magda is a very kind person.

What does this sentence mean?

If you’re as good as gold tomorrow, we can go to the cinema.

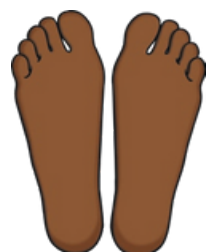

- a) If you’re well behaved and good tomorrow, we can go to the cinema.
- b) If you wear gold tomorrow, we can go to the cinema.
- c) If you’re badly behaved tomorrow, we can go to the cinema.

What does this mean?

“Pick anything you want from the menu, I’ll foot the bill,”

- a) Uncle Tony will pay.
- b) Uncle Tony will put his foot on the bill.
- c) Uncle Tony will ask for the bill.

What does this sentence mean?

Jon went to spend a penny.

- a) Jon went shopping as he had 1p to spend.
- b) Jon didn't have any money.
- c) Jon went to the toilet.

What does this sentence mean?

"Can I have a new bike?" asked Nitesh.

"Not yet, money doesn't grow on trees," said Dad.

- a) Nitesh can have a new bike when money grows on trees.
- b) Nitesh can't have a bike. Dad is telling him there is only a limited amount of money.
- c) Nitesh can't have a new bike. Dad is telling him there is no money on the trees.

What does this sentence mean?

Games consoles are becoming ten a penny.

- a) Games consoles are becoming more common and cheaper.
- b) Games consoles now cost 1p for ten.
- c) Games consoles are worth 10p.

What does this sentence mean?

This sofa costs the earth!

- a) The sofa is very expensive.
- b) The sofa is the price of the earth.
- c) The sofa is good for the environment.

What does this mean?

Since selling the car, we've money to burn!

- a) Since we sold the car, we've been setting fire to our money.
- b) Since we sold the car, we've more money than expected.
- c) Since we sold the car, we've less money than expected.

